

There is no need for Biden to worry about Cornel West or No Labels 230803

IN THE NEWS. “Let’s be serious, Black folks know there are two choices in this election,” said the Congressional Black Caucus PAC chair, Rep. Gregory Meeks (D-N.Y.), who praised Biden’s record while contrasting it with “MAGA Republicans who are debating the benefits of slavery, banning books, a woman’s access to an abortion, and threatening our most precious right to vote. With all of this at stake, we won’t allow Black voters to be hoodwinked by a sideshow that can only dilute our power and rollback our progress,” Meeks said. FRIENDS. With Jack Smith about to launch his January 6, suit against Trump today in the DC court, the weight of all the indictments against Trump are going to sink his boat. There is nothing Trump can offer now in a plea bargain. He has let all these suits go too far. Trump has a history of beating up the civil courts but he is dealing with a handful of criminal courts with the biggest possible issues ever and he has no track records there. He has to date listened to the craziest of lawyers. He thinks he is back 50 years ago learning the ropes of manipulating the courts in civil matters. Now he is in his late seventies playing in criminal court games that he thinks are like the civil courts. There is no way Trump is not going to jail for the rest of his life. I think he will try to head to Russia when he realizes he is going to jail. I do not think he has the guts to kill himself. But the biggest impression I have now with this latest indictment is that even the MAGGOT crazies are going to have a wake-up moment next year, if not sooner, that a vote for Trump plus a win for Trump ends American democracy. The Red, White and Blue goes up in flames. The MAGGOTS still have a healthy belief that Trump can pull off being President like some crazy win on his show Apprentice. That somehow Trump can win the 2024 election. But even the most ignorant of MAGGOTS are seeing the crazy advisors that Trump has gravitated to. Trump’s success in the courts since leaving office is zero. There is another issue. This is the first time in any political campaign that virtually all the campaign money for Trump is going to legal fees. What is funny is that all this money going to pay Trump’s legal fees means that his campaign is an empty policy bag except for a focus on the courts. Trump is getting a lot of airtime but all that airtime is about lawsuits. Nothing about a Republican plan of action except the Republican attacks on law and order via their dying support for Trump. The other thing that is working in my head is that other than the crazy fascist DeSantis there is nobody running for the President in the Republican party who is more than just a big Zero. All losers and has-beens and wannabes. The biggest negative in the 2024 election is Biden holding onto Kamala Harris. A few MAGGOT candidates have mentioned this but no one has said that Kamala is not just incompetent to be president, she is “A Black female Obama.” That issue will keep the racist Republicans, which is all Republicans, voting Trump up to election day. This is what Biden has to worry about. That he is 80 and stands a good chance of dying in office or becoming incompetent and his primary legacy will be the first Black female President.
